Famine - Test work - Bellary District - Kurugodu conversion into relief - Proposals under Sec.53 submitted.

The test work at Kurugodu was started on 24th December 1934 and the attendance on the first day was 585. Subsequently it fell down to 121 on 28th December 1934 and it was 377 on 23rd January 1935. It was therefore not recommended to be converted into relief work in my report Ref. A-5 No.5464/34 dated 25th January 1935. After the inspection of the Famine Commissioner on 18th January 1935 the work was split up into two camps from 25th January 1935 and the number has been steadily increasing since then the attendance on 10th February 1935 being 822. I visited the camp twice and I am convinced that there is real distress in that locality. I therefore recommend that this work be converted into relief work under Section 53 of the Code. The main object of this proposal is to provide for dependants of the workers by means of cooked food at the kitchen attached to the work.

For Collector.
